

Sales Brochure

southbrookcabinetry.space

Your Kitchen, Designed by You, Built Exactly as Designed

Southbrook Cabinetry brings custom cabinetry design, transparent pricing, and precision manufacturing into one continuous experience – so the kitchen you imagine is the kitchen that arrives.

The Old Way vs. The Southbrook Way

Custom cabinetry has always meant trade-offs: weeks of back-and-forth before you see a real price, a showroom visit to picture your own kitchen, and a quiet worry that what gets built won't quite match what you approved. Southbrook was built to remove those trade-offs, not just soften them.

The Old Way	The Southbrook Way
Wait days for a rough estimate	See a formal, itemized quote in under 5 minutes
Picture your kitchen from a catalog	See your actual room in live 3D as you design
Hope the order was entered correctly	Your design becomes the shop's build instructions directly
One price list for everyone	Pricing tailored to how you buy – retail, trade, or dealer
Uncertain delivery windows	A clear, typical 4–6 week path from approval to shipment

Design It Yourself, In Your Browser

Start from a room's measurements, upload photos of the space, or simply describe what you have in mind in a guided conversation – Southbrook meets you wherever you're most comfortable starting. From there, your kitchen takes shape in a live, interactive 3D view, so you're never designing blind and never waiting for someone else's rendering.

Move walls, swap finishes, resize a run of cabinets, and watch the kitchen respond in real time. This isn't a static picture of a similar kitchen – it's your kitchen, in your space, built to your dimensions from the very first click.

Priced Instantly, Quoted Formally

Every choice you make – a door style, a finish, a drawer upgrade, a piece of hardware – updates your price immediately. No waiting on a callback, no spreadsheet emailed back and forth. When you're ready, a polished, itemized PDF quote is yours in typically under 5 minutes: clear, professional, and ready to share with a partner, a contractor, or yourself.

Truly Custom, Truly Buildable

"Custom" should mean more than a color chip. With Southbrook, every cabinet is configured individually – series, door style, box material, finish, hardware, and accessories – fitted to your exact measurements rather than the nearest standard size. Built-in guardrails work quietly in the background, so every combination you're able to select is one our shop can actually build, beautifully and correctly, the first time.

The result is design freedom without the risk: you can explore boldly, knowing that what looks right on screen is guaranteed to be right in the shop.

From Your Screen to the Shop Floor

Here is what sets Southbrook apart: the design you approve is the exact data our cabinet makers build from. There is no re-entry, no re-interpretation, and no gap where details get lost in translation. Your specifications flow directly into our shop's work orders, guiding every cut, every panel, and every quality check along the way.

That single, unbroken thread – from your screen to the saw – is what lets us promise a kitchen that matches your design precisely, and deliver it on a dependable timeline. Cabinets ship flat-pack-ready, complete with the cut lists your installer needs, with a typical lead time of 4–6 weeks from approval.

Built for Trade Partners

Southbrook is designed to work as hard for our trade partners as it does for homeowners. Six distinct pricing channels — retail, dealer, contractor and trade, central-KD, big-box, and refacing — are applied automatically, so every partner sees the right numbers without manual adjustment or awkward conversations.

Dealers get a dedicated order book to manage their business at a glance, and every customer — yours or ours — has a personal portal to track every estimate from first draft to shipped order. Whether you design one kitchen a year or a hundred, Southbrook scales with you.

How It Works

- Design — Start from your room's dimensions, photos, or a simple conversation. Watch your kitchen come together in live 3D.
- Configure — Choose your series, door style, finish, hardware, and accessories. Pricing updates instantly as you go.
- Approve — Review your formal, itemized quote and give the go-ahead when you're ready — no pressure, no phone tag.
- Build — Your approved design moves straight to our shop floor, built to spec and shipped flat-pack-ready in a typical 4–6 weeks.

At a Glance

- A formal, itemized quote in typically under 5 minutes
- Live 3D design from your room's dimensions, photos, or a guided conversation
- Every cabinet configured to your exact measurements, with buildability guaranteed
- One continuous thread from your design to the finished cabinet — nothing re-entered, nothing lost
- Six pricing channels for retail, dealer, trade, and beyond
- A typical 4–6 week lead time, flat-pack-ready with complete cut lists
- A personal portal to track every estimate, for homeowners and dealers alike

Start Your Kitchen Today

Your next kitchen doesn't have to start with a showroom appointment or a waiting game. Open your browser, bring your room — or just your idea of one — and see a real, priced, buildable design of your own kitchen in minutes.

If you're a dealer, contractor, or trade professional, we'd welcome the conversation about a dealer account: your own pricing channel, your own order book, and the same precision manufacturing behind every order you place.

Begin your design, or talk to us about a dealer account, today.